Hollywood Chamber Looking for Future Leaders for Leadership Hollywood 33

HOLLYWOOD, FL – What does the City of Hollywood’s mayor and commissioners, a Broward County Commissioner and business owners have in common? They have all graduated from the Greater Hollywood Chamber of Commerce’s Leadership Hollywood program.

Now is your chance to be part of one of the oldest Leadership programs in Florida, and the Chamber is currently looking for future community service leaders to participate in their Leadership Hollywood 33 program. More than 600 individuals have graduated from the program.

The next class will begin in October and will culminate in June 2009 with a graduation ceremony. Sessions will be once a month, and each day of this program is geared to show participants things that they have not experienced in a normal work routine.

A few hands-on sessions include a ride in a police simulator, participation in a courtroom trial and a visit to the Broward County jail.

“I received the opportunity to befriend some really influential and positive people, not to mention the lifelong relationships that I have made. The significance of Leadership Hollywood and how it’s really hands-on has made me a better citizen,” said Stanley Scott of Prudential.

Log onto www.hollywoodchamber.org and download your application today. Please e-mail your completed application with a headshot and resume to programs@hollywoodchamber.org. Deadline is September 19, 2008.
