The Hollywood Chamber Gives Back to the Community

HOLLYWOOD, FL – On June 17th, the Greater Hollywood Chamber of Commerce honored members of Leadership Hollywood Class 35 during a graduation ceremony held at Memorial Hospital South (3600 Washington Street in Hollywood).

This year's graduating class was part of the Chamber's Leadership Hollywood program; an interactive program where members viewed the Hollywood community up close, worked together and gained an in-depth knowledge of resources and services available in Hollywood, Broward County and the State of Florida. Class members also received the chance to give back through group assigned community projects.

"The education department, on behalf of the Art and Culture Center of Hollywood, is so excited by the improvements made by Leadership Hollywood Class 35 (Team #1) to our Arts School. The team pulled out all the stops and took on multiple projects to fulfill our many requests. We appreciated all of their hard work and dedication. Everyone loves the new look for the building and yard," says Art & Culture Center of Hollywood Assistant Director Susan Rakes.

Are you Leadership Hollywood XXXVI Material?

Now is your chance to be part of one of the longest-standing and prestigious Leadership programs in Florida! The Chamber is currently looking for future community service leaders to participate in the Leadership Hollywood XXXVI program.

More than 700 individuals have graduated from the program to date. The relationships and knowledge gained from Leadership Hollywood is well worth the financial investment!

The next class will begin in October and will culminate in June 2012. Sessions will be once a month, and each day of this program is geared to share with participants insights that could never be experienced outside of a leadership program. Example? Have you ever been in the Harbor Master Tower at Port Everglades?
